

Dear Parents/Carers, 12.10.20

I am writing to you to inform you of our updated Home Learning Contingency Plans.

To ensure that all of our learners continue to have access to their education in the event of needing to self-isolate we have developed the contingency plans detailed below:

Learner has to self-isolate at home

Day 1- Form tutor will email Home Learning Menu with daily activities to work from.

Day 2 Onwards-

Form tutor will email any suitable teaching materials from the school day such as Powerpoints/worksheets etc each day

Monitoring and feedback- Parents/Carers to complete Home Learning Daily log following link provided

Parents/Carers will contact Form Tutors with requests for any printed or additional resouces required.

Class and teacher have to self-isolate at home

Day 1- Form tutor will email Home Learning Menu with daily activities to work from.

Day 2 Onwards- Class teacher will record daily English and Maths lesson plus 1 other curriculum lesson featuring video of them teaching. Lessons will be accessed from Home Learning pages on the Quest website.

Monitoring and feedback- Parents/Carers to complete Home Learning Daily log following link provided

Parents/Carers will contact Form Tutors with requests for any printed or additional resouces required.

Safeguarding and Wellbeing

- Members of staff will visit homes of learners who are not in school for prolonged periods.
- Form tutors to arrange class Zoom 'catch up' calls once a week to enable learners to stay connected
- Form tutors will call home at least once a week to perform wellbeing calls to parents/carers and learners
- Safeguarding Team to continue to support families and learners through the newsletter/website.

Eg. e-safety, wellbeing activities, "Talk it out" email and help and support lines.

We thank you for your ongoing support during this time. It is truly amazing to work with such a fantastic community for the continued success of all of our learners' education.

Kind Regards,

Chris Edwards-Dewey
